Company officials who rushed to the spot from Los Angeles declared that an immediate hunt will be started for the outlaws who are believed to have committed the spasm.

Wreck on Curve

The train, which had left Los Angeles at 1:30, struck just after, was just rounding a curve when the derailment occurred, precipitating three of the heaviest cars down a 25-foot embankment.

Sheriff Deal Uses Sledge To 'Clean House' Prior To Retirement From Office

Four-Year Accumulation of Liquor-Making Devices Confiscated by Official Is Consigned to Junk-Yard; Premises Prepared for New Sheriff

Sheriff James A. Deal cleaned house yesterday. In a few days the sheriff will turn over the county jail to his successor, "Paddy Jack" Francis. In that everything may be spick and span when the new sheriff takes the keys to the jail, Sheriff Deal removed a few nondescript articles that have accumulated during his four years of office.

The house-cleaning yesterday revealed that when a sheriff starts work of this nature he does not take the customary broom, duster and mop. Sheriff Deal's instruments were more simple. He used nothing but a 10 pound sledge. But then he wasn't working on dust and cobwebs as one usually does when house-cleaning.

Four-Year Accumulation

Instead the sheriff was working on a four-year accumulation of stills. Nor was the sledge used to brighten them but to render them unfit for further use. When the house-cleaning operation was over the remains were loaded on a truck and hauled to a local junk yard.

There was quite a conglomeration of articles in the pile after the sheriff had finished his house-cleaning. The stills of some of the more elite or whom Sheriff Deal and his corps of deputies have called during recent years were very up-to-date affairs. Nothing but the best was used in their construction. But good copper coils and boilers went the way of all the rest in the sheriff's house-cleaning.

Others, however, who once pined the midnight trade, weren't so particular about the construction of their equipment.

Keep Down Costs

"Why interfere with the profits by buying expensive copper pipes and boilers when tin and lead will keep up production?" was apparently the question many of the "leggers" asked themselves when building the outfit Sheriff Deal destroyed yesterday. In fact these cells seemed to predominate in the collection taken from the jail house basement.

One "inventor" had very ingeniously rigged up an automobile radiator to serve as a still.

The sheriff was unable to furnish any estimate as to the aggregate number of gallons of liquor the accumulation of stills would turn out in a day. He did venture the opinion, however, that future Christmas would be quite cheerless if all the there was to come from the stills included in the house-cleaning.

Ritzzy Rosalie

EVEN though it is snowing there is no reason why Rosalie can't play tennis on an indoor court and that's exactly what she's going to do. Perhaps she's being a little inconsistent in wearing a backless dress for the occasion when it's so cold out but it's the latest in tennis frocks. The newest ones have backs as low as evening frocks and are of course, sleeveless. Little woolen tennis socks are worn with these dresses.

Do We See by Jerks?

A correspondent of Science has lately stirred up another corner in nature's barnyard where a little more light amid the darkness would make interesting revelations. He has it in his habit of seeing things, under certain circumstances, as if there were almost infinitesimal interruptions of vision. A rapidly-revolving disc, glimmering at certain angles, appears to stand, glimmeringly, still—a phenomenon often seen in motion pictures—where the explanation is not difficult on account of the periodicity of the photographic exposure. But in the case in question the phenomenon must, apparently, have its origin in the sense of vision itself.

Two or three observers have taken up a little mystery, adding to it from their own experience. Thus one of them says:

"I have frequently observed when I was sitting at a desk that it gave me the jerky, unappearingly familiar in the 'moment' of a rap against, this appearance has occurred in sight as well as in artificial light. My only explanation—purely a hypothesis—is that certain individuals' vision is not a steady process, but occurs at regular intervals, a sort of stroboscopic disk. Or shall we say that vision is also quantized?"

This refers to the modern and slowly-gaining hypothesis that light and other forms of energy are distributed in "quanta," or "the quantum theory." "Bull's eye!" says another put it. It is a mathematical device to which, however, we shall not venture here, but which theory has a great number of well-known phenomena to support it. In other words it has had many "successes"—which, alas! we have learned to remember do not insure its future success of a theory itself.

It is an expression of the recent tendency to science to granulate nature, which is quite a far cry from the idea prevalent not so long ago that the thing to look for in nature was complete uniformity and an smoothness of surface. And this idea of seeing by jerks instead of with perfect steadiness and continuity is in accord with the new discoveries of things.

Presently some one will be connecting all this with the bouleversement of the earth's etheric envelopes by the continually increasing disturbances caused by radio, wireless telegraphy, laboratory experiments with high-frequency currents, and so on. It is told that our bodies, as the most sensitive part of our bodily machinery, are the first to show a general effect by a jumbling and fluttering of the delicate sense of vision.

Another observer of this newly-discovered

Daphne

An Unusual Romance of Love and Sacrifice

BY HAZEL LIVINGSTON

CHAPTER 50
The nurse left on Monday though both Daphne and Crystal begged her to stay until after the funeral.

"I'm awfully sorry, but I have another case waiting," she said firmly, packed her neat white uniforms and was gone on the first bus without waiting for breakfast.

"Lan!" Crystal blazed after her, "I would stay if she wanted to, I'll tell you one thing, if Mama would stop carrying on I'm going to see too."

Adeline was palpably trying to act the part of the serene but grief-stricken widow, the role which she fancied becoming, but she wasn't up to the vegetable man's booting and screeching night planting and reading Abner's death had undisturbed her nerves. The least sound would induce her to sleep alone and Crystal absolutely refused to humor Daphne had to it. It was a dread two days. A relief for all of them when the funeral was over.

As soon as the business is settled, I'm going back to the city," Crystal announced when they were being back from the cemetery in the Grille Wagner mourners' limousine.

"Me too!" Adeline said hastily, adjusting her widow's weeds, which were a little askew. With Abner's death undergound she felt safer. And what Fred Finch, the realtor held her hand a bit longer than was necessary in offering his condolence. It seemed he admired her.

"All right. Only you're not going to come back on me. Get that in your head right away!"

"Why Crystal, is that any way to talk to Mama?"

Love's Awakening

The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affection

BY ABDEL JARRISON

Katie Tells Madge the Results
KATIE'S eyes and voice were filled with triumph as she told me she had "found out things about Mary," but there was something else in them which redeemed the spring upon Dick's young niece.

There was a loyalty to the family, a concern for Mary's welfare which I knew was not surpassed even by my own worry over the girl. My little maid's attempt at the sleuthing in which her manifested soul de-lighted, had been fantastic, even of-fensive, but I could not help thrill-ing with the idea that the results of her efforts might help to save Mary from the results of whatever fresh folly she might be committing.

I wasted no time to even mild re-proaches for the deceit I guessed my little maid had practiced upon me. If I were to use her information at all I would treat her as if I had com-missioned her to aid me.

"Tell me all about it, Katie," I said. "I fancy you know that I am very anxious about Mary."

"Sure thing, I know," Katie said, tossing her head and settling into the chair I had motioned her to take. "I know since before that day you tell me to clean Mary's room, and den you start in cleaning your own self, you remember?"

I nodded, my thoughts whirling swiftly back to that day and the val-ue attempt I had made to find the mis-sing piece of blotter from Mary's desk pad.

"I think things before den," Katie went on, "den she drop out check book, and Meester Graham vant to put eet back yer she tink she drop eet, so she not know you see it. Den made me tink, and den yay she acted—she neder spend no money—and somethings I hear—make me tink I better play detective—nobody else ssech good chance, and den I study den business, you know. Me take in sixty lessons' correspondence school."

"I turned a choking laugh into a cough, and Katie pounded me on the back and brought me some water be-fore I could gain control of myself enough to let her go on. She was so abluely egotistical, and so cor-rosively unconcerned of her enee-ding—I recalled her calm "somethings I hear" that I longed for Katherine and Lillian to share this interview.

"Me, I find out—neder mind how, den she check most of her money to somebody named Janet Haver-down."

I gasped at her calm utterance of the secret I thought shared only by the Underwoods, Katherine, Dicky and myself. Was anything in our household safe from Katie's "somethings I hear" as Mother Graham always char-acterizes my little maid's propensity to listen to things not intended for her ears.

"Den I notice she always write a letter about as quick as she get out from Healthwalle's each week. And I tink some day she turn vun of dese letters copyside down on the blutter and I see address an ret. I no tink of dot myself," Katie ex-plained modestly. "I see eet in movies all time."

I dashed as I remembered that I had thought of the same expedient for finding out the address of Mary's correspondents.

"Den den day Mary ask you for new blotter and any she speel luk on old vun, I know better, for I see blotter shoot before and no luk speel. But Mary she take somethings sharp and she cut all around circle on old blotter un den she tear out piece all eep in little pieces and den put heem in vunst basket, den she tear rest of blotter in heeg pieces and put dem on top waste basket, and put new blotter on pad. Den she go away but before I could get up to look at piece you eom and say you clean room."

Cuticura Heals Head Covered With Ringworms

"My head was covered with ringworms about the size of a dime. I had a few on my face and they were very painful. They were very itchy and I used to scratch them until they would bleed. Whenever the ringworms were on my scalp my hair fell out. I could not sleep much at night on account of them."

"My mother read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and advised me to send for a free sample, which I did. I was very much pleased for it gave quick relief. I purchased more and in about two weeks I was completely healed."

WAR GAME SLATED FOR OHIO DISTRICT

FORT HAYES, COLUMBUS, Dec. 27—Mobilization orders have been issued. War is certain. The date for the first battle has been decided upon.

This war, however, is to be enacted on paper instead of with rifle, gas and aerial bombs. On Jan. 7, 1929, it was announced that the first battle will be fought on the first of the month.

The war, however, is to be enacted on paper instead of with rifle, gas and aerial bombs. On Jan. 7, 1929, it was announced that the first battle will be fought on the first of the month.

An imaginary boundary line will separate the blue and red states which have been near an open outbreak for several years. The boundary is about two miles west of Toledo, Bowling Green, Findlay, Kenton, London, Washington C. H., Hillsboro and Manchester. To the west of this line is the blue state of which Dayton is the capital. Columbus is the capital of the red state to the east.

General Nolan is commanding the blue army. His task is to capture Columbus. This war game is to be played at a preliminary to the air corps ground maneuvers which are to be held between Wright field at Dayton and Norton field at Columbus in May, under actual combat conditions. It is said that these combined air and ground maneuvers will involve the employment of a greater number of air corps units than participated in the air-ground activities held at San Antonio, Texas, in May, 1927.

HOOVER INTERESTED IN PLAN OF MILLS

Various Methods of Distributing Liquor in Latin-America Considered

ABOARD U. S. S. UTAH, (VIA ARRLINGTON, VA., RADIO STATION), Dec. 27.—With the battle-ship still a day's cruise south of the equator today, President-elect Hoover continued to make the most of calm weather by resting in preparation for the strenuous days ahead of him after the ship docks at Hampton Roads, Va., on Jan. 1.

Resting under a canopy erected on the deck to protect him from the rays of the equatorial sun, Mr. Hoover dictated some letters to his secretary at intermittent intervals. He spent most of the time conversing with Mrs. Hoover, Ambassador Fletcher and others of his party.

The president-elect appeared interested in the plan for making prohibition effective which Maj. Chester P. Mills presented to him W. C. Durant's prize.

Maj. Mills' plan is similar to that used in Costa Rica. When Mr. Hoover visited that country a month ago he appeared much interested in the system of controlling the sale of liquor there.

The Costa Rican government prohibits or imports every gallon of alcohol allowed in circulation in the country. It sells to distributors on an allotment basis, giving them the privilege of mixing the liquor as they please.

By thus controlling the price as well as the quality of liquor on the market, the Costa Rican government enforces a form of temperance.

The Costa Rican system was the most rigid system of controlling the sale of liquor encountered in all 10 Latin-American countries visited by Mr. Hoover. All the other countries limited their efforts to controlling the hours during which liquor might be sold or limiting the number of "vendee" places in each district.

In Chile no building may be used exclusively for the sale of liquor but hotels and restaurants may sell as much as they please up until 1 o'clock in the morning. There are no bars or saloons in the country but diners take wine with all their meals in conventional fashion.

In Brazil liquor is sold in a similar manner but the coffee houses take the place of Chile's hotels and restaurants. The Brazilian coffee houses resemble Germany's beer gardens.

Are Buyers of Low-Priced Cars Smaller Than the Owners of High-Priced?

Plymouth Sales Manager Points to Demand That Car Is Creating as Evidence of Desire for Better Cars

Why is it that low-priced cars have always been small, and that the lower priced they are, the smaller they seem to be? asks Harry W. Haberman, Chrysler and Plymouth sales manager.

To say that buyers of low-priced cars are smaller physically than those of high-priced ones is plain foolishness, says Mr. Haberman. "Furthermore, owing to the prevalence of larger families among those in moderate financial circumstances, low-priced cars generally carry more persons per car than those of higher price. The former is truly the family car—the only one that family has. It serves both parents and children alike at all times.

Commensurate to his pocketbook, the buyer of a low-priced car wants and has the right to expect just as much as the manufacturer can possibly give him in size, comfort, distinctiveness, performance, style and luxury, as the man who can afford to pay more. Somehow, everyone seems to have overlooked that until now, when it is brought out forcibly in the new Plymouth.

"Just how much these conveniences are demanded by buyers in the low-priced field is evidenced by the tremendous popularity of the new Chrysler Plymouth already has created. Dealers all over the country are reporting that never before have they received such enthusiastic comments over a low-priced car as they are receiving about the Plymouth. Buying orders are coming to the factory by the thousands. Such spontaneous enthusiasm can mean only one thing—that the Chrysler Plymouth has filled a definite want of long standing, and that scores of thousands of buyers of low-priced cars are turning to it for their next automobile.

Harry W. Haberman, Local Chrysler Distributor

"The Chrysler Plymouth is giving the buyers of low-price cars the utmost they can get for their money, in comfort, size, distinctiveness, luxury and performance. That is why this new Chrysler-built car already is revolutionizing the entire low-price field."—Ad.

EXPECT ACCEPTANCE

Constitutional Protocol Sent to Bolivia and Paraguay

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Prompt acceptance by Bolivia and Paraguay of the constitutional protocol sent last week by the Pan-American conference, was expected in conference circles today. The protocol would set up a commission of nine judges, two each from the belligerents, and five neutrals to be appointed by the conference.

Meanwhile the maistras committee is again active, but the arbitration subcommittee of the conference proper is continuing its efforts to reach a solution of the complex question of what to expect as arbitral matters. The draft of the constitutional convention, completed several days ago, is awaiting formal approval of at least two South American governments before being submitted to a plenary session of the conference.

YEAR'S TAX REFUNDS RUN TO $150,000,000

168,501 Separate Refunds Made to People by Treasury Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—A golden stream totalling nearly $150,000,000 flowed back out of the treasury department during the last fiscal year into the pockets of taxpayers upon whom unjustly high levies had been imposed, an analysis of a huge mass of figures submitted to congress by the secretary of the treasury revealed today.

In all, 168,501 separate tax refunds were made, ranging all the way from one cent to the $8,213,808 claim honored in the name of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. of Winston-Salem, N. C.

Nine refunds went over the million-dollar mark and one fell just a few thousands short. In addition to the Reynolds claim, they were:

Million Dollar Refunds

American Tobacco Co. and subsidiaries, of New York, $4,271,200.

Federal Shipbuilding of Kearney, N. J., $3,654,239.

Estate of Margaret Olivia Sage, New York, $1,015,930.

Swift & Co., of Chicago, $1,496,683.

Estate of Peter G. Brooks, Boston, $1,308,520.

W. T. Texas Co., of Houston, $1,236,507.

United Fuel Gas Co., Inc., of Charleston, W. Va., $1,225,962.

Estate of Vernon Zevola Reed, Denver, $1,222,383.

Estate of John J. Emery, of Philadelphia, $927,190.

Thousands of the refunds ran from in excess of $25,000 to three-quarters of a million, and many names familiar from one end of the country to the other appeared in the gigantic list.

Otto Kahn, of New York, for instance, received $64,700 back from the government.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, of the New York Yankees, got back a total of $144,364. The trustee for William Waldorf Astor netted a $41,315 refund. The estate of Frank W. Woolworth received $165,570.

Frederick W. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Virginia Vanderbilt of New York, received $93,408 and $73,410 respectively.

The estate of Henry Clay Frick, of Pittsburgh, was awarded $792,710, and the Aluminum Company of Pittsburgh, controlled by the family of Secretary Mellon, got back $559,926.

In Other Districts

In the Chicago district, the estate of Catherine Caudy was returned $247,952. Nelson Swift Morris got $63,013.

In Boston, the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company benefited by $783,096.

Golf and country clubs all over the country benefited from a change in the law on club dues and received hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The automobile industry reaped a harvest with Packard, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Velie, Paige, Studebaker, Stutz, Pierce-Arrow, Jordan and Peerless all receiving in excess of $25,000.

This year, the Treasury Department reported only refunds in excess of $500 by name, yet the lists completely covered a long committee table in the House Office building. Scores of workers spent many hours digging out figures of interest to various localities.

It was estimated that interest alone on the refunds amounted to $28,250,000.

$100,000 FIRE

Blaze Guts Columbus Mattress Company and Warehouse

COLUMBUS, Dec. 27.—Fire early this morning gutted the Rome Mattress Co. and the Katz Brothers warehouse, causing a loss estimated at $100,000. The blaze raged for several hours before it was brought under control. Street car service was tied up for nearly three hours. Cause of the conflagration is undetermined. According to firemen the blaze had gained great headway before it was noticed by Ralph Watring, taxi driver, shortly before midnight. The Rome company occupies a three-story wooden structure, an old landmark of Columbus, where the fire is believed to have started. Fanned by a strong wind the blaze soon spread to the Katz warehouse, and only fireless on the part of firemen kept it from sweeping through the entire manufacturing district on the north side.

SUPERINTENDENT TALKS

Galion School Head Stresses Need of Alumni Cooperation with Students

GALION, Dec. 27.—One of the most interesting of local holiday affairs was held last night at the senior high school building when members of the alumni association of Galion high school assembled for their twelfth annual reunion. Following registration, the program was given in charge of Mrs. Joseph V. Mott, president.

Robert Guinther, of the class of 1907, now a prominent Akron attorney and former president of the Akron board of education, gave the principal address, using as his topic, "Easy Education." The talk, a satire on methods of quick learning so often advertised, sparked with originality and humor and thoroughly delighted the audience.

Theodore Schaefer played several organ numbers, a medley of high school songs serving as an opener to the program and another solo completing his numbers.

Superintendent Speaks
J. F. Demiller, who is serving his first year as superintendent of Galion schools, was introduced to the association and made an interesting talk, stressing the necessity of a strong relationship between the alumni members of the school and the present students and faculty.

Martha Carol Schaefer, a graduate of last year's class and now a student at Oberlin college, closed the program with a reading in dialect by Wallace Bruce Amesbury.

The business meeting following was in charge of Mrs. Mott with Miss Miriam Sayre, secretary-treasurer, reading the association reports. Officers elected for the coming year were George James, president, Gerald Dyer, vice president, and Miss Elizabeth Bland, Hazel Garverick and Velma Resch.

A buffet luncheon was held in the gymnasium following the program and business meeting, with high school ushers serving. The decorations were in seasonal colors with sprigs of holly decorating the tables and walls. Mrs. Wayne Schreck was chairman of the menu committee and arranged the luncheon, assisted by Misses Elizabeth Bland, Hazel Garverick and Velma Resch.

Toy balloons and character caps were given as favors for the dance which followed, with the Jolly orchestra supplying the music.

Kind-hearted people laugh when a male funny story is told.

AVIATION TEACHER TO ARRIVE JAN. 1

Perry Lloyd To Have Charge of New Kenton Flying Club

KENTON, Dec. 27.—Perry Lloyd, veteran pilot and instructor, will arrive in Kenton, Jan. 1, to take charge of the details and activities of the Kenton Flying club now being formed here.

A new plane has been ordered for use in instructive work and it is expected that it will be ready for delivery at the Delaware plant by Jan. 5.

The unassuming, W. C. Davis, war pilot who inaugurated the flying club, is making arrangements for securing a suitable landing field for use in instructing the embryo pilots and fliers. One of the most favorable of the several sites already offered for a landing field is that on the John Fulton & Son farm, a mile south of here.

PLAN LEASING OF MT. GILEAD ROAD

New York Central Expected To Take Over Shortline Contract

PAPERS SIGNED
Approval of Interstate Commerce Commission Now Required

MT. GILEAD, Dec. 27.—Steps toward the possible lease of the Shortline railroad here were taken when an attorney came to Mt. Gilead recently to secure the signatures of local officials of the railroad, operating over the two-mile track between Mt. Gilead and Kenton, in a contract with the T. & O. C. railroad, which would in turn lease the line to the New York Central.

The agreement between the companies and the trustees of the Shortline was reached some time ago and was approved by city council but it was not necessary to submit printed documents to the interstate commerce commission bearing the signatures of the parties interested. The signatures of the local officials completed that requirement and the papers will be submitted to the commission within a few days. J. H. MacMillan, president of the board of trustees, announced.

In case the lease effected is approved by the commission and becomes effective the present depot of the T. & O. C. lines will be abandoned in favor of the Shortline depot, which is located nearer the heart of Mt. Gilead. The present depot is located several blocks from the Shortline depot and the change will be an accommodation to both passengers and the express company.

CUNNINGHAM SCORES 20 POINTS TO GIVE ROBERT LEES WIN

Rough Contest Taken by Columbus Quintet by 37 to 28 Score

BY KATH R. McELROY
Sports Editor, The Star

COOKIE CUNNINGHAM, the Ohio State star who was not named for the Cleveland tournament, exhibited some of his old form here at night when he scored 20 points to lead the Robert Lees basketball team to a 37 to 28 victory over the Marion Eagles.

It was one of those friendly contests—the kind that under-takers and physicians can sit on the sidelines and thoroughly enjoy. The game was quite disappointing in view of the fact that no one was killed or seriously hurt.

Featuring the game was the feud between Schwab and Baerman and the annual Bacon-Shea matchup. The rest of the Marion players were so outclassed in size that they had little chance to do any damage.

Hold Small Lead

ONLY in the first half did Marion hold down the Columbus eagles. At the end of the initial period it looked as though the Eagles had a chance to win for the victors held only a three point lead.

Fans, however, reckoned without consideration of Cuninghams. Held to six points in the first period, Cookie broke through time after time in the last half to score seven field goals. Four of his total of 20 points were made by the free throw route.

The holding contest between Schwab and Baerman ended with the Marion center in the lead. Schwab led the local scorers with a total of 10 points while Baerman counted five.

20 Points Collected

TWENTY-NINE personal fouls were called during the game on both teams by Referee Hoffman. The Eagles scored eight and the Robert Lees nine points on foul shots.

Next Thursday night the Eagles will play Ohio university on the Star basketball court.

Considering the class of opposition the local stacked up against, the Eagles played a good game to hold the Columbus outfit down to 27 points. This story might have been a different one if Cuninghams had been held down to a more reasonable score. The Robert Lees had the advantage in height, being able to get the tip off every time. With the Eagles it was a matter of shooting then breaking to the other end of the floor before the victors could return the ball. There was no chance for follow shots.

Last night's lineup:

Eagles: G. F. R. Lees, G. F. Perry, 2 0 Shea, 1 2 Compton, 2 1 Griffin, 1 0 Bohyer, 1 0 Hing, 1 0 0 Schwab, 1 0 3 Baerman, 2 1 Baerman, 2 0 3 Cunningham, 2 2 Appleget, 2 0 Stewart, 1 1

Totals: 20 8 Totals: 11 0

ACE HUDKINS WILL TAKE ON DEVOS IN GARDEN ON FRIDAY

Both Fighters Seeking Match with Mickey Walker for Title

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—The scrap between Ace Hudkins, a rough, untutored son of the woods, and Rene De Vos, the cultured Belgian, at Madison Square Garden Friday night is going to be a light and evasive affair. Hudkins is like that little prairie flower—his growing wider every hour. He's been wild for three weeks because the Belgian Hercules had to ask for an adjournment of their little controversy and thus did Ace out of his Christmas vacation with the folks at Lintula, Nebraska.

Mr. De Vos, who speaks five languages, not including profane, acquired a millionaire manager and a belt on the back of his neck at the same time and was forced to ask for time out to settle with the belt. His new manager, Anthony J. Dracich, holds the job, but the belt has passed to that house from which no hero ever returns.

Mr. Hudkins, "Tony," if you care, is sure De Vos is going to tie several bowknots in the fall of the Netherlands will that tomorrow evening, but who, lose or draw, Tony is going to sling a party for Rene at the St. Regis after the battle.

De Vos and Hudkins are exponents of two widely contrasting middle-weight styles and the winner hoped to get a title shot at Mickey Walker if that is being done this winter. Hudkins already has an offer to meet Walker in California in a 10-round fight, but he prefers New York and 15 rounds.

CARL MAYS SAYS RIGHT ARM BACK IN CONDITION

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—Carl Mays, submarine pitcher at the New York Giants, writes to officials of the club that his right arm has regained its former cunning and that he expects to stand National league battlers on their heads next season. The erstwhile blonde terror of American league batsmen is wintering at Miami Beach, Fla., and hopes to restore the effectiveness of his salary whip by taking it in the sun.

Mays formerly shared with the Red Sox, the Yankees and Cincinnati, but has done little or no pitching for the Giants.

To an outsider who is present, a family quarrel seems his most mortifying experience.

GAMES OFF

No County High School Cage Contests On Friday Night

A last another week of idleness is ahead of county high school basketball teams it was announced here today by Dr. N. S. Sifut, county health commissioner.

One week ago a ban was placed on public gatherings throughout the county as a preventive measure for the epidemic five games, with 10 teams from the county playing, were originally scheduled for Friday night.

JIMMY REESE SENT TO COAST BY YANKS

Lary and Durocher Left To Fight for Vacant Infield Position

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—The 1929 competition for the vacant infield berth on the champion New York Yankees was narrowed today by the action of the club in returning Jimmy Reese, highly touted infielder, back to the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league under option for another year's season.

The Yanks were alleged to have paid $100,000 or more in 1927 for Reese and his team mate, Lary, for delivery in 1929. Shortstop Mark Koenig is slated to be moved to third base to fill the post made vacant by the sale of Joe Dugan and Mike Gonzalez, leaving Lary and Leo Durocher, a substitute, to fight it out for Koenig's old job at short.

RUMOR JOE DUGAN WILL BE OFFERED MANAGERSHIP

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—If Joe Dugan will consent to play third base for the Boston Braves next season he will eventually be given the post of manager according to an unconfirmed report in circulation here today.

The veteran third baseman of the champion New York Yankees is bulking at his role in the lovely Braves. Judge Paul Fuchs, owner of the Braves, has announced he will manage the team himself next year, but according to the report he will attempt to lure Jumping Joe to the club by making him assistant manager next season and chief pilot later.

ANDRE ROUTIS TO DEFEND TITLE IN TWO MATCHES

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—Andre Routis, of France, has been signed to defend his world's featherweight championship against Kid Chocolate, Cuban sensation, and Al Singer at New York City in the winter, according to Madison Square Garden officials.

Arrangements also have been completed for a 10 round battle at the Garden on Jan. 4 between Johnny Dundee, former featherweight champion, and Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, former king of the limousins.

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

AT BUFFALO, N. Y.—Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., light-heavyweight, outpointed Garfield Johnson, Pittsburgh negro (10).

Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, knocked Ruby Stein, New York (3).

RICKARD TO MAKE ANNOUNCEMENT ON SOUTHERN BATTLE

Tex Leaves for Miami To Look Over Fight Situation

BY DAVID J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—Making a name like a rubber heel, Master Rickard, has disappeared in the direction of Miami, Fla., guarding the great secret with the seal of a young mother with her young. He did, however, relay his vigilance long enough to say that he would have a "big announcement" to make on Saturday.

The announcement in question is that Jack Sharkey and Young Stripling will meet in a 10-round bout at Miami Beach on or about Feb. 28 and Master Rickard wants you to be sure and stop him if you have heard that one before. He then will tell you the one about the travelling salesman.

The announcement that he will not make is that he is guaranteeing Stripling and Sharkey about $150,000 for the spot in question. This means that if it should happen that the victors turn up missing in face numbers, he will be fished again. He went for at least $24,000 with Tunney and Henney and forthwith proclaimed that hereafter, guarantees were out. The chances are that he really has something this time, however.

FIGHT SHOULD DRAW

THE south will go for Stripling even if he happens to be fighting that renowned old warrior, John J. Snelly. Toss Willie in with a raucous heavyweight like Sharkey, and it is hard to see how the transaction will, particularly with Florida's colony of winter visitors ready for anything that the next minute may bring.

As a matter of fact, the fight does look the part of a natural. Stripling's popularity below the line is only one of his assets. The general understanding that the winner is likely to get Dempsey in a little fight later on is distinctly another. A third is the presence of Dempsey, who may or may not be announced out of his retirement during the general excitement in Florida, depending on whether this will be deemed an aid or a hindrance to the Stripling publicity.

Lastly, we must consider the men things that Sharkey and Rickard have been saying at and to each other as excellent belly-lun, at least until paroled otherwise. I doubt, too, that Sharkey's supposed invincibility regarding the south's alleged partiality toward Stripling will serve to keep too many southerners away from the arena.

Yes, the boys have done a good job on this one. They have used up a lot of words in getting to the given point. But then a lot of words usually mean a lot of customers.

Many employers find places for additional workers in process of reorganizing their various departments in preparation for another year's business.

The use of the Help Wanted Classification in The Star has solved the employment problem for countless employers. These advertisements offer a service that cannot be duplicated in any other field.

A great number of applicants are attracted to the position, thereby offering the prospective employer the advantage of choosing from a large field. A confidential Box Number service withholds the name of advertiser from the public and prevents continuous bother by applicants during business hours. Written applications often serve to classify an applicant better than a personal interview.

Tight Money, Selling Wave Send Industrial Issues Down

BANKS CALL LOANS BLOCKING ADVANCES

Lower Trend in Prices with Only Small Losses Being Recorded

COPPER HIGHER

High Priced Stocks, Oils Display Reactionary Tone

BULLETIN
NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Industrial stocks drifted stubbornly to a lower level of prices today, with professional bears doing the most of the pushing and the bulls standing on the sidelines waiting for the money-market squall to blow over.

Stock traders were not so free with their buying demand when the 12 per cent. money rate was posted shortly after the noon hour. The pull of 15 and 20 per cent. money has been looming up for the last few weeks.

Most of the stocks which have been leading the market lost ground today.

BY W. S. COUSINS
N. S. Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—With few exceptions industrial stocks drifted to a lower level today, under the influence of tight money and widespread closing selling wave, which had already wiped out the bulls of the day. The high priced industrial and the oil stocks were reactionary, the dropping six points the first half hour while most of the copper stocks were firm.

The revenue money rate was 30 per cent. with little expectation that it could be kept that low for the whole of the day. The banks were expected to drain heavily on the call money market today (tomorrow putting an effective handicap on any further upward move in stock prices for the time being).

Through the trend of prices was downward, lower in the active stock rarely exceeded one or two points. General Motors sold down 2 1/2 points at 130 1/2; Westinghouse dropped two, American International 2 1/2. General Electric 1 1/2; Consolidated Gas 1 1/2; Chrysler Motor two and U. S. Steel less than a point.

The most important news item of the day from the stock market standpoint was the reported sale of export copper at 10 1/2 cents a pound which seems to have cut forecasts of 17 cent copper. The copper were all strong. Anaconda selling in good volume above 110.

U. S. Bonds
NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Opening of treasury bond quotations: Four 4 1/2, 100 1/2; treasury 3 1/2 of 1947, 98 1/2; treasury 4 1/2 of 1947, 111 1/2.

DON B. CLARK TO REPRESENT UNION

Will Act for Central Labor Body in Civic Association

Don B. Clark, 410 Thompson st., president of the Marion Central Labor union, was elected to represent the union in the Marion Civic Association at a meeting held last night. The representative to the civic association was named to continue cooperation given like bodies by the central union.

A letter from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was read at the meeting. The letter expressed the appreciation of the president for a copy of an address made before the local union recently by Congressman-elect Grant E. Mouser, Jr. A copy of a questionnaire answered by Mouser before the primaries last August at the request of the union has been sent the American Federation of Labor headquarters for labor records. Like questionnaires were sent to all candidates at the primaries. The local union regards Mouser's answers as "very satisfactory," according to the statement of officers.

The union planned last night for another open meeting and speaker to be held in the South Main at 8 p.m. Jan. 25. A local business man, yet to be selected, and John W. Jockel, of Cleveland, state secretary of the bricklayers' union, will be the speakers.

SAY EUROPE SWARMING WITH GOVERNMENT MEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Europe is swarming with United States government agents, conducting a wide variety of investigations, from those of diplomatic nature to those involving smugglers and persons wanted by the federal authorities for law violations.

Officials admitted today that there are more investigators in Europe than at any previous time in history and added that as a general rule they are getting cooperation from the foreign authorities, with the possible exception of those customs agents looking into production and sales costs of commodities produced abroad.

Why Did He Give You That Christmas Gift in Cash?

Just to be spent on things that will be forgotten long before next Christmas?

Not likely! More probably he gave you cash because he felt you were better qualified than he to select the one perfect gift for yourself.

He none the less intended that it should remain in every sense a GIFT. A token by which his good wishes might long be remembered.

The finest mark of your appreciation, therefore, would be to purchase something that will last for years, something you will carry with you every day and wherever you go.

What more fully meets these requirements than a good watch? One that you will be proud to wear and proud to show him. A GRUENI Smart in its interpretation of the latest vogue. Yet a thorough timekeeper. Prices range from $27.50 up.

Green's watches, 14K gold and 12 jewel movement. Many stylish designs at $40. Others from $27.50

5,000 SCIENTISTS TO OPEN SIX-DAY FORUM

Two Thousand Speeches To Be Made at Meeting in New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—America's leading scientists—about 5,000 of them—will assemble here today for a six-day "open forum" in which problems, theories, deductions and discoveries relating to all phases of science will be authoritatively discussed. It is the greatest gathering in the history of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, an organization which combined 125 societies and more than 10,000 members. Fully 2,000 speeches are to be made.

Dr. B. E. Livingston of Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md., the permanent secretary, outlined for International News Service what he regards as the outstanding subjects that are to be dealt into during the various discussions. These problems are:

1.—The nature of the universe. What are other worlds like?

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard college observatory, will discuss that absorbing topic. He has recently done outstanding work in locating the center of our Milky Way system. Our sun is only a star in the Milky Way—one of a million stars. He will discuss our rapidly increasing knowledge of other external galaxies, the distribution, dimensions, brightness and variety of the individual members of this super-system, which is several million light years distant. The question will be raised, whether or not the groups of galaxies are not themselves just single units in systems of still higher order.

Behavior of Animals

2.—The behavior of animals, including human beings. Dr. William Morton Wheeler, professor of entomology of Harvard university, will grapple with that subject. He is the foremost world authority on the biology of the social insects. Ants, wasps, bees and other insects live in communities just as people do. Dr. Wheeler will outline his observations of their behavior and all assembled zoologists will be interested in the deductions he draws.

3.—The history of the human race. Professor Franz Boas of Columbia university, one of the world's great authorities on anthropology, will, in discussing this subject reveal how the American Indian got to this country.

4.—What is light?

Compton To Speak

Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago, eminent physicist and recipient of the Nobel prize in physics for 1927, will demonstrate various types of electro-magnetic radiation, including radio waves, heat rays, light, ultra-violet x-rays and gamma rays. He will describe numerous experiments, mainly those involving interference, that show that wave characteristic of light.

Many other problems, of course, will come in for attention, but those named above are among the outstanding.

ing, according to Dr. Livingston. Other subjects of interest will have to do with such subjects as the ecological construction of continents, the economic status of scientific men and women, what 1929 brought in science, the psychology of clothing, what 1929 may bring to science, why we have traits and studies in the sense of humor of 100 Vassar students.

Who can be so gracious as a gracious young woman who knows she is pretty?
